

Soul Satyr

The Southern Theater, Columbus, Ohio 2007

Winner of the 2011
Columbus Blues Alliance competition for the International Blues Challenge

Soul Satyr is a 7-year veteran of regional festival, showcase, and big club circuits.

“This eight piece band belts out great originals and covers with the Soul Satyr Horns, Hammond B-3, 2-man rhythm section, bass, and Johnny Mack on guitar and vocals. The arrangements are crisp and professional.”

- Bob Thomas, Gahanna Creekside Blues and Jazz Festival

No Slackin'!

Soul Satyr's "No Slackin'" is a genuine mixture of blues, rock and soul which brings back the saying "When Music Was Music"! When compared to today's commercialism music, it's refreshing to listen to a band with some real talent... Overall, this is a feel good CD, great when you might need a boost. If you like the blues, horns and the sound of Tower of Power, Eric Clapton and some of the southern soul of the Allman Brothers, this one's for you.
